Constructing The Future is SIG's rallying call which inspires its people to deliver added value through technical expertise and unrivalled customer support, reflecting the ever-changing demands of construction. It draws on the group's core differentiators of scale, proximity, expertise and service to help solve our customers' everyday challenges.

ABOUT

SIG is the largest provider of specialist building products and technical expertise to the construction industry on the island of Ireland.

Ireland (ROI & NI)

SIG Ireland has been a supplier to the Irish Construction Industry for over 30 years, having built up our presence over that time through joint ventures with local entrepreneurs and through acquisition. We are now the largest provider of specialist building products and technical expertise to the construction industry on the island of Ireland, employing over 240 people.

We believe that our continued success and growth is dependent on the dedication and commitment of our staff and the quality of service that we give our customers. We continually strive to achieve our goals by being a 'people' business and recognise that our customers, people and suppliers, are our greatest assets.

Group PLC

SIG is a leading distributor of specialist building products in Europe, with strong positions in its four core product areas of Insulation, Interiors, Roofing and Exteriors. We play an important role in the construction supply chain, where we understand and serve the needs of a very broad range of customers and protect and develop the brands and products of our major suppliers to deliver better solutions. SIG operates from trading sites across the UK, Ireland, France, Germany, Poland and the Benelux, employing around 6,500 people.

ABOUT

SIG Technical Building Solutions offers cost effective, and regulatory compliant proposals with impartial product advice to the construction industry.

Our specialist team will provide advice on energy saving construction products and guidance on building regulation compliance. Our complete integrated service gives you unbiased access to thousands of market leading products and solutions, while our intimate knowledge of product performance helps you to make the right choice. We specialise in Thermal, Acoustic, Fire Protection and Moisture management requirements and have access to an unrivalled product range, ensuring your project has the right combination of products to deliver optimal building performance.

Working with colleagues from our parent group SIG Plc, SIG Technical Building Solutions can provide you with cost-effective solutions that meet your technical specifications. This includes managing the sometimes competing performance criteria of acoustic, fire and thermal design requirements.

SIG Technical Building Solutions can provide guidance to all sectors of the construction industry in ROI & NI, including:

- ▶ Residential: Houses, Apartments, Mixed Use and Refurbishment
- ▶ Non Residential: Education, Commercial, Data Centres, Health Care, MoD
- ▶ Timber Frame, Modular, and Off-site Construction
- ▶ Industrial Insulation
- ▶ Passive Fire Protection

Our Team

Industry innovators

At SIG we have an in-house Technical Building Solutions Team of 5 people. We have over 30 field based Technical Sales Representatives for our 4 divisions – Interiors, Construction Accessories & Facades, Insulation and Roofing.

They are all supported by dedicated Customer Service Teams from all of our branch locations.

Customer Service

Elevated customer experience

SIG are setting new standards for customer service in the construction industry. You can place your order in person, by phone, by email or online through our new digital platform. When your order leaves our branch, you will get a text alert with a link to a real time map where you can track it's progress. This is just one of the many ways in which SIG are continuing to drive improvements in our customer service.

SIG Interiors is the leading provider of specialist interior fit-out products to the construction industry on the island of Ireland. Known for our ceiling, partition and drylining solutions, we provide the widest range of best-in-class interior products across all sectors including residential, office space, education, healthcare, retail, leisure, off-site construction and data centres.

SIG partner with world class brands, and work closely with all stakeholders (QS's, Architects, Designers etc) to ensure we design partition and ceiling systems that meet both the building regulations, and our customers' requirements.

No matter the size or scope of your project, SIG Interiors can deliver what our customers need from our branches located across the island of Ireland. We proudly deliver world-class interior fit-out brands and have longstanding partnerships with all industry-leading product manufacturers.
